

Reading Checkup for Babies & Toddler

(Newborn to age 2)

How are your children developing as readers, and what can you do to help?

Use Reading Checkups to evaluate your children's progress through six stages of reading development, from picture-pointing to independent reading.

Each checkup describes the knowledge and skills that most children demonstrate at a given stage, and suggests how they can be nurtured.

How to Use the Checkups?

Use the reading checkups the way a doctor uses a growth chart. Look for a steady pattern of growth with a few lulls and spurts. That's a healthy sign that your child is doing well in reading. Age or grade ranges are listed for each checkup, but just as a guide.

As you mark your child's progress, don't forget to check up on what you can be doing to actively promote your child's interest and skills.

Checkup for Babies and Toddlers:

It's never too soon to begin reading to your child.

Babies enjoy hearing a parent's voice, even if they can't understand the words. They soak up the language and attention.

Toddlers can listen longer and follow a simple story. They focus on the pictures, but they are learning some of the basics about reading, such as how to hold a book and turn the pages. They are also learning to love it.

Does your baby...

- Respond happily to reading by waving hands or batting the pages?
 - a. not yet b. sometimes c. often
- Treat books differently than other playthings?
 - a. not yet b. sometimes c. often
- Join in when you read rhymes, sounds, or lines that repeat?

- Want to read the same book again and again?
 - a. not yet b. sometimes c. often

Can your toddler...

- Hold a book right-side up and turn the pages one at a time?
 - a. not yet b. sometimes c. often
- Point to something in picture and say its name?
 - a. not yet b. sometimes c. often
- Retell something that happened during the day?
 - a. not yet b. some words c. often
- Hold a crayon in a fist and scribble?
 - a. not yet b. without control c. with control

Don't Worry:

What Do the Checkups Mean?

Notice where most of your checkmarks fall.

If your answers are mostly As, your child may still be making the transition from an earlier stage. If the answers are mostly Bs, your child is in the middle of this stage. If you checked mostly Cs, your child is probably stepping up to the next level.

It's alright if your little ones...

1 Treat books like toys.

Babies normally teethe on books or handle them roughly at first.

2 Quickly loses interest...

or is easily distracted when you read. Just skip to your baby's favorites page.

3 Wants to read same story over & over again.

Baby & toddler learn through repetition. Do create fun moment for baby.
